Bachelor of Business Administration in ECONOMICS

ECONOMICS is the study of how people interact with their social and natural environment to provide goods and services to one another according to the constraints that those environments impose. The BBA Degree in ECONOMICS offers students the opportunity to explore these interactions and to examine important economic issues and policies from the perspectives of various schools of economic thought.

The ECONOMICS curriculum is structured to provide an introduction to the subject of economics by presenting the student with the fundamental economic principles and ideas and with some issues and problems examined by economists. This program builds to address in greater depth particular areas of economic theories, application and analysis.
